

Party Clean-up: Before, During and After

When you are party planning and playing host, it is important to be ready for messes before, during and after the party to best accommodate your guests and keep your home in pristine condition. Not to worry – Rug Doctor has tips to help make your guests and your home happy when you decide to have a soiree.

Before the party:

- It is inevitable there will be some kind of mess at your party – whether it is red wine or candle wax – prepare for it all. Rug Doctor's Spot & Stain Remover is a great product to have on hand.
- Make sure guests have easy access to trash cans so they can toss their own disposable party dishes and utensils.

During the party:

- Have the right cleaning products and your cleaning tools handy to respond to accidents quickly. Keep dish towels or paper towels handy for spills and a broom and dustpan to whisk away broken glass. For a quick clean, try some of Rug Doctor's cleaning wipes – which can also be used for spills on guests' clothing. Available in a handy Spot & Stain Remover formula.
- When it comes to stains, try to remove them immediately. Letting the stain set in increases the chance it will become permanent.

After the party:

- Before starting to clean after your party, walk throughout your house and make a checklist of things you need to clean. This will ensure nothing is forgotten.
- Don't scrub stains – blot carefully with a sponge or paper towel and use the appropriate cleaner. One of our most popular stain removers is the Rug Doctor Spot & Stain Remover.
- For high traffic areas, use Rug Doctor's Hi-Traffic Pre-treatment formula before deep cleaning with the Rug Doctor.
- Don't forget the fabrics. It's easy to overlook places like curtains, seats of dining room chairs and other upholstery in your home. You can clean dining room chairs, upholstery and hard-to-get spaces in the home with Rug Doctor by utilizing the Upholstery hand upholstery tool and Spot & Stain Remover.
- Make it fun! Turn on your favorite songs from your iPod and recruit a cleaning buddy to help clean up the mess.
